- In 2017, Bob lead the largest renovation, since the original building, in the Curling Club history with the floor replacement project, serving as designer and project manager
- The last two years during COVID-19, Bob was in charge of the maintenance and well-being of the Club building, completing repairs himself or taking the lead in calling trades to perform necessary maintenance, if he can be convinced to use a professional service
- Bob has garnered the respect of everyone within the Paris Curling Club, surrounding clubs and industry specialists with whom he has been in contact
- The biggest take away from the above noted accomplishments is Bob is a volunteer. He acts as a manager and keeper of the Paris Curling Club strictly as a volunteer
