

Farm Buildings Not housing livestock or containing manure storage

A farm building is defined as all or part of a building, that does not contain any area used for residential occupancy, that is associated with and located on land devoted to the practice of farming, and that is used essentially for the housing of equipment or livestock or the production, storage or processing of agricultural and horticultural produce or feeds.

Building permits are required for all farm buildings greater than 10 square metres, such as equipment storage, grain bins and silos. If the farm building is going to contain livestock or manure storage, refer to Farm Buildings - Livestock and Manure Storage permit package.

Required approvals from other agencies:

In many instances before a building permit application can be processed and a permit issued, there are other approvals from other agencies that are required. These approvals are not administered by the Building Division. Please ensure all required approvals are complete using the applicable law checklist prior to applying for a building permit. These approvals are required as part of a complete building permit application package.

The following items are required for a permit. This checklist has been developed for conveniences purposes only. The property owner is responsible for ensuring compliance with all County of Brant By-laws, other applicable laws and the Ontario Building Code.

Permit applications to be filled out and signed

Authorization form (if applicable)

Good Forestry Practices By-law 70-21

- If you are planning to injure or destroy trees that do not comply with By-law 70-21, a Clear Cutting permit will be required before obtaining a building permit, please contact treeconservation@brant.ca or visit Tree Conservation and Regulations for more information.
- Tree Conservation Worksheet (if applicable)

Next steps:

- Submit the complete permit application and supporting documents to the Building Division either electronically by emailing building@brant.ca or hard copies can be dropped off at the Pairs Customer Service Office
- The application is reviewed for completeness, compliance with the zoning by-law, applicable laws, lot grading approval and building code. Application review comments are provided during review to identify any outstanding requirements and to summarize permit fees.
- The permit is issued when all review is complete, and all fees are paid.
- Once the permit is issued, construction begins, and inspections are scheduled. Building inspectors review major phases of construction until occupancy and/or final is complete.
